

Federal grant establishes a virology research institute at Inter American University ^[1]

Submitted on 27 October 2021 - 2:23pm

This article is reproduced by CienciaPR with permission from the original source.

Calificación:

No

CienciaPR Contribution:

Universidad Interamericana de Puerto Rico ^[2]

Original Source:

Dr. Elizabeth Padilla-Crespo, Assistant Professor of the Department of Sciences and Technology of the Inter-American University Aguadilla Campus (Supplied)

The Aguadilla Campus of the Inter American University of Puerto Rico is the only institution in Puerto Rico that will be part of a collaborative effort that will establish an Integrated Biology Institute focused on viruses. Together with researchers from four institutions in Arkansas and Maine and funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF), viral interactions and mechanisms at all levels of life will be studied.

You can read the full story in the Spanish version.

Tags:

- #Virology [3]
- Universidad Interamericana [4]
- #Borinquena [5]
- NSF [6]

Content Categories:

- Biological and health sciences [7]

Source URL: <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/external-news/federal-grant-establishes-virology-research-institute-inter-american-university>

Links

[1] <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/external-news/federal-grant-establishes-virology-research-institute-inter-american-university> [2] <https://www.inter.edu/> [3] <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/tags/virology-0> [4] <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/tags/universidad-interamericana> [5] <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/tags/borinquena-0> [6] <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/tags/nsf-0> [7] <https://www.cienciapr.org/en/categorias-de-contenido/biological-and-health-sciences-0>