Ecosistemas húmedos como El Yunque son parte esencial en el ciclo global de carbono, ya que procesan una tercera parte de las emisiones del gas. (Ricardo Alcaraz/Diálogo)

A group of experts began observing the effects of global warming in the humid and tropical system of El Yunque. Dr. Tana Wood and her team will evaluate how ecosystems like El Yunque will repond to increasing temperatures through the resarch project TRACE.

For more information, updates and progress of the project please visit the webpage: forestwarming.org [3].
