The March for Science Puerto Rico was a historic day. However, Earth Day 2017 was not the end, but the beginning of our work. We need your help to continue celebrating, advocating and defending science in Puerto Rico and around the world.

In the coming weeks we will be sharing actions that you can take to continue advancing the goals of the March for Science Puerto Rico.

At the moment we invite you to LIKE our Facebook page, March for Science Puerto Rico [3] (www.facebook.com/marchforsciencepr [3]). We also ask you to share your name and email [4] so you can keep up with us.
